My dear Philip:

Thank you very much for your letter of March 11, which I was glad to receive, and also thank you for sending me, "Inside Europe", and I shall look through it as soon as I have a little time. Now the talks here have begun, I shall have little time for reading, but I hope to get an hour or two a day in which I can read.

I am glad you met Rom Landau, for he is a nice chap, and I am glad that you found the book interesting.

The talks here go on until the end of May, when we shall leave for New York and for Sarobia, Mr. and Mrs. Logan's place near Philadelphia, where also there are to be talks; and we shall sail directly for Holland about the first week in July.

Rosalind and Rajagopal send their love to you. With my best wishes,

Yours affectionately,

J. Krishnamurti
